Big Bill—Death Angel
Justice Holmes at 90.
The Silver Problem

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

CHICAGO March 9—This city is the windiest with high winds driving snow and literally ENJOYING Strenuous Chicagoans in recreation and struggle. Waves dashed by the lake, twenty thousand men have been working all night clearing the snow from the railroad car tracks.

MAYORALTY fight continues to be drawn out. "Big Bill" Thompson having eliminated his democratic opponent in the primary faces Cermak, a Democrat, in the final test. The defeated candidate Judge Lyle, was unfortunate in his rather violent newspaper support and Republican newspapers do not love "Big Bill" but are supporting a Democrat because of the Democratic majority in the county.

Nobody knows what will happen, "Big Bill" Thompson, Mr. Wegg, drops into poetry. "The result of this election will remind you of verses you learned at school:

"'The leaves of the forest when autumn is green,
Upon which their banners at morning were seen.
The leaves of the forest when autumn had flown,
And the morrow lay without and strewn.'"

Well, Big Bill," "I'll be the autumn leaf that will wither last."

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes celebrated Sunday. His mind with knowledge of the Constitution and meaning unimpaired, his sympathies are still with 12,000,000 Americans, not with 100 to 120 big corporations. His health and continued strength are an encouragement to men past seventy who would like to make the last part of life useful.

Justice Holmes will be the first supreme court judge that ever reached a decision at 90 years of age. He still carries in his body bullets collected as a soldier in the civil war.

IN A FEW DAYS the Prince of Wales, having traveled far and wide by steamer and airplane, will open the British Trade Exposition in Buenos Aires. The trouble with England and other trade is a silver lining. There is not enough gold in the world to carry on its commerce now that silver, used side by side with gold for thousands of years, is only money available for more than half of the world's people, has been cut down in many lands.

The situation will have to be corrected before world-wide prosperity can be restored.

COTTON GROWERS need not worry at the persistent low price of cotton. Cotton in the past, as Edward D. Carpenter of St. Paul knows, has been sold in great quantities to the "tropical climates of India, Asia, Mexico, Central and South America." The silk mills of these countries is almost useless and they can not buy at high prices.

Much financial intelligence will have to do something about the cotton question or we shall find ourselves, like the dragon Fafnir sitting on our pile of gold, with one-half billions of it. No customers to buy from us.

PHONE RATES AGAIN IN COURT

Ohio Associated Firm Asks Injunction Against New Rate Order.

SET MARCH 27 FOR HEARING

Company Wants Refund Cleared Up Before New Charge Becomes Effective.

Application by the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. for an interlocutory injunction enjoining an order by the public utilities commission directing the company to start billing new rates to telephone users in Marion will be taken under advisement by the federal court here March 27, the United Press learned today.

A temporary injunction was granted to the company Oct. 31 by Federal Judge Benson W. Hough. The concern was ordered at the time to post $10,000 bond to cover subscriber's charges then being assessed.

In a bill of complaint filed in federal court by attorneys for the telephone company the order of the commission was termed "unfair and confiscatory."

Under the order a rebate of the excess rates charged telephone users from Aug. 1, 1925 to Nov. 1, 1930, was to be made. The refund provided for the return of sums aggregating approximately $170,000.

The telephone company set forth in the bill that great expense would be incurred in determining the amount collected from each subscriber in the Marion telephone area in excess of the schedule compiled by the utilities commission.

It was alleged by the company that the cost of investigation would boost its output to more than $200,000

WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR ALLEGED PLOT

Husband Named as Victim of Scheme Stands by Accused Wife.

By The Associated Press

MARIETTA, O., March 9 — Charged with plotting to kill her husband, George Gourley, World war veteran, to procure his insurance, Mrs. Carrie Gourley went on trial here today. She was indicted on a charge of shooting with intent to kill or wound.

Gourley, who lost his left arm in the shooting, appeared in court today ready to testify that he believed his wife innocent of the charge. He spent the morning seated by Mrs. Gourley at the defense table.

Charles Whiting, 20, a roomer at the Gourley home, and Harry Gourley, 18, a son of the victim, confessed that Whiting shot Gourley last Thanksgiving eve on direction of the defendant. The confession said that Mrs. Gourley promised Whiting $100 for doing the deed and her son an automobile.

Whiting was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary when he pleaded guilty to a charge of shooting with intent to kill. He will be the star witness for the state against the accused woman.

More than 40 witnesses have been summoned and it is expected that the trial will take up the greater part of the week.

CHAPLIN IN BERLIN

BERLIN, March 9 — Charlie Chaplin set foot in Berlin today in a snowstorm reminiscent of the closing scene in his picture "The Gold Rush," and found a great crowd waiting to greet him.

SECOND TRIAL IN SLAYING OF SHERIFF OPENS

State To Ask Death Verdict for Blanton Ralls, 19, of Crestline.

SEVEN JURORS SEATED

Motions for New Trial, Rest of Judgment Filed for Walter Ralls.

Special to The Star.

BUCYRUS, March 9—With one man facing a sentence of death in the electric chair, the state today sought another life to avenge the slaying of Sheriff George Davenport when Blanton Ralls, 19, Crestline Negro, went on trial here.

Efforts to select a jury this morning were progressing rapidly and at noon seven had been tentatively seated from 11 veniremen examined. It is likely that the taking of testimony will be started Tuesday afternoon.

Two motions in behalf of Walter Ralls, uncle of Blanton who last week was convicted of first degree murder, were filed this morning. One of them asks for a new trial while the other requests the court to hold up the formal sentencing of the defendant. Judge Clarence Ahl has not given his decision.

Youth Calm in Court

The youth charged with complicity in the slaying appeared calm as attorneys attempted to select an impartial jury which will determine his fate. He was neatly dressed in a dark blue suit.

Blanton is planning to make a determined fight for his life. This was indicated this morning when his attorneys subpoenaed two witnesses, Tom and Terrence Ralls. They are his uncles and brothers of Walter Ralls. It is not known whether he will take the stand in his own defense.

Prosecutor J. D. Sears announced he would ask the death penalty in the present case. According to testimony in the trial last week, Blanton Ralls had the shotgun with which Sheriff Davenport was killed. Blanton, however, insists that he gave the weapon to Walter when the sheriff entered the house to arrest them for chicken stealing. The state has called 24 witnesses.

75 Veniremen Summoned

Seventy-five veniremen appeared for today's trial. Those tentatively seated at noon were Charles W. Chubb of Galion, Mrs. Ida I. Miller of Bucyrus, Charles A. Cleland of New Washington, W. L. Tupps of Galion, Mrs. Alice L. Waldbauer of Crestline, Mrs. Nellie Heller of Bucyrus and Thayer Brown of Bucyrus.

W. T. Neuman, William Carle, H. J. Stump and C. C. Heller, all of Bucyrus, were dismissed. Two had defective hearing, one was opposed to capital punishment and the fourth was out of town.

YOUTH TIED IN PATH OF SPEEDING TRAIN

Boyish Prank Nearly Results in Death of 8-Year-Old Illinois Boy.

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., March 9—Eight year-old William Erlansom was in a state of nervous shock today as a result of the harrowing experience of being bound and left in the path of a speeding Northwestern train yesterday.

The boy wiggled off the track a few minutes before the train passed, and was rescued from the embankment by a railway employe, who heard his screams. After telling his story, the youngster collapsed.

He gave the names of four boys who tied him to the track as a "scare." The boys explained to juvenile authorities today they thought the next train was a local and would stop at the station a few feet away. Instead, it was a through train.

Brother Is Third Victim In Vivian Gordon Drama

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 9 — The third victim of a trilogy of murder, suicide and near madness, Pierre M. Franklin, brother of strangled Vivian Gordon, tossed fitfully in a hospital today under heavy guard.

Yesterday - the eleventh day since his racketeer sister's body was found in a park thicket and the sixth since the lifeless form of his 16-year-old niece was found in a gas-filled kitchen--Franklin suffered a mental collapse and forcibly was taken to the psychopathic ward of Bellevue hospital.

Early yesterday, he dashed half-clad into the hall from his room in a hotel—shouting and crying. Five house detectives and a nurse labored with him for three hours before they could subdue him. When police arrived, they found him lying on the bathroom floor, gibbering.

His room was littered with newspaper clippings revealing the sordid underworld life that Vivian Gordon to her death and shamed her daughter, Benita Bischoff, into an untimely grave. Photographs of his sister, a striking auburn-haired woman in a variety of poses and of his niece in her first dancing costume lined the walls.

Hospital officials said he was not in a serious condition but would require constant care and observation to restore his mental state to normal. He weighs well over 200 pounds and is of a heavy, healthy type.

Saying Montreal was his home, Franklin came here several days after the crime and claimed his sister's body, certifying his kinship in affidavits. He and an unidentified woman, the only mourners buried her Friday in Westchester county. He paid his hotel bill Saturday night and said he was returning home the next day.

Meanwhile, the hunt for Miss Gordon's slayers virtually was at a standstill.

EAGLE CAUGHT IN HAWK TRAP HERE

A Golden eagle is a captive today at the H. D. Sult farm on Roberts road seven miles east of here. The bird was caught Saturday afternoon by Harold Sult in a hawk trap baited with a dead chicken.

The bird has a wing spread of seven feet, tip to tip. The bird fought viciously when removed from the trap.

Eagles are seldom found in Ohio.

CARS JUMP TRACK, DESTROY BUILDINGS

Damage in Railway Wreck in Eastern Ohio Placed at $100,000.

By Brush-Moore Leased Wire.

SALINEVILLE, O., March 9 — Pennsylvania railroad officials today estimated $100,000 as the cost of a freight train crash and fire, in which 16 merchandise-laden and four empty box cars were derailed and damaged and two buildings alongside the track were destroyed here Sunday at 3:20 a. m. No one was injured.

A two-story brick building occupied by a restaurant was wrecked when two freight cars loaded with merchandise were hurtled into the basement, upsetting a coal stove which set fire to the building. The blaze spread to an adjoining two-story brick and frame building, which was also virtually wiped out. A poolroom on the first floor of building had not been operated recently, while apartments in both buildings were unoccupied.

The crash occurred when a westbound freight train of 90 cars and a pusher broke in the middle and buckled, hurtling several box cars into the path of a 115-car eastbound freight train. Twenty freight cars figured in the smashup, which tore up about 1,000 yards of track.

The wreck, which occurred just west of the passenger and freight station, near Main street, was the worst in the history of railroading in the Salineville district.

GASOLINE DOWN

One-Cent Drop in Prices Recorded in Marion County.

Gasoline prices continued to fluctuate Sunday when, after a rapid series of variations in the last few weeks, prices dropped a cent. Prices today are 16 cents for regular gasoline and 19 cents for higher grades.

The one-cent drop affects only Marion county according to representatives of the larger oil companies. Practically all companies, with the exception of a few privately owned stations, are selling gasoline at 16 and 19 cents.

The maximum prices reached in the series of changes was 17 and 20 cents. Lowest prices were 14 and 17 cents.

Lima Invalid Heads Unique Group of Wireless Operators

By United Press.

LIMA, O., March 9—James Lisk, 35, bed-ridden invalid and amateur wireless operator of this city, is president of what is believed the world's most unique organization. Its title is the "chair warmers' club," a world-wide association of short-wave radio operators. The members all are invalids and "shut-ins."

Every day the 50 or more members of the club, separated by hundreds, even thousands of miles, exchange greetings over the air. Lisk was disabled in 1912 when he was thrown from a horse and suffered an injury to his spine.

He is a claimant of the world's record for amateur long-distance wireless communication. He has been in touch with every portion of the world excepting Asia, and was in communication several times with Byrd antarctic expedition.

BALKAN AREA QUAKE TOLL MOUNTS HIGH

Dead Estimated at Between 80 and 150, Injured at 500.

TERROR GRIPS POPULACE

King Alexander and Premier Go to Scene To Direct Relief Work.

By The Associated Press

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, March 9—Between 80 and 150 dead were counted today in eastern Jugoslavia, and adjacent Bulgaria rocked Saturday and yesterday by severe earthquakes. More than 900 buildings and other structures in eastern Jugoslavia were demolished, and 500 persons were estimated to have been injured.

Shaken from their beds and panic stricken after Saturday morning's quakes residents of the borderline country were afraid to go back to their homes until late Saturday. At 4 a. m. Sunday they were routed into the open again in their bed clothes, screaming and making for woods which afforded some shelter from the bitter weather without the danger of falling masonry.

Large Area Shaken

The quakes, both Saturday and yesterday, extended from eastern Jugoslavia across Bulgaria to the shores of the Black Sea. The epicenter was near Drama, Bulgaria. The quakes were felt in Greece where 70 houses were destroyed in the village of Kavallion, and in eastern Thrace and Adrianople. The more severe shocks knocked the seismograph needles from the dials at the observatories here. Chimneys fell over the entire area.

King Alexander and Premier General Zivkovitch left here during the day for southern Serbia to superintend relief operations, which were already under way. Trains being sent out with food, shelters, medicines and drinking water. Before departing the king gave orders that such soldiers as had homes in the devastated area be allowed to return there at once and aid in caring for relatives.

Not one building was left standing in Ptuya, where 19 persons were killed. The bridge across the Parva between Skoplje and Gueygeli collapsed, interrupting railroad traffic. In one village near Gueygeli there were 20 dead and 22 wounded. The railway station in Demirkapu was razed by the shocks, which killed two children and injured two adults in a Bulgarian border village of Leski. Houses were destroyed in Neyrokop.

Afraid as residents were to go back into such homes as were left standing, the quakes occasioned real suffering throughout the stricken areas. The shocks yesterday occurred in exceptionally bad weather. Supply and relief work is apt to be slow inasmuch as the railroads have suffered

LEGION TO DISCUSS CIVIC QUESTIONNAIRE

Bird-McGinnis Post To Be First To Discuss Betterment Plans.

Marion's welfare will be the principal topic for discussion this week when hundreds of members of clubs, organizations and other groups prepare answers to a questionnaire prepared by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer who is heading a civic movement to boost Marion.

One of the first groups to take up the questionnaire will be Bird-McGinnis Post, American Legion. Regular meeting of the post Tuesday night has been assigned to the discussion of the questionnaire and the answer to its questions.

The questionnaires were distributed among the city's 441 organizations to obtain varied ideas of what is needed to make Marion a better city.

Organizations not represented at a meeting at White Oaks farm last Thursday night were given questionnaires by mail later last week. These are to be filled and returned to Dr. Sawyer not later than March 19.

If this information can be assembled in scheduled time, there will be another civic meeting in two weeks, Dr. Sawyer said.

The movement to fuse the efforts of all Marion organizations into a general campaign to better the city is sponsored by 32 leading business and professional men of Marion, headed by Dr. Sawyer as chairman.

OHIO DRY LAW PETITIONS OUT

Proposals for Two Hubbell Amendments Now in Circulation.

HAVE DIVERGENT AIMS

One Would Tighten Prohibition Law; Other Provides Liberalization.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 9—Copies of two initiative petitions being circulated in Ohio by "the Association on support of the Hubbell amendments," and designed to afford "each elector an opportunity to cast an affirmative dry vote or an affirmative wet vote" were received here today from the association's headquarters in Cleveland.

The petitions propose two amendments to the Ohio constitution. The first, if adopted, would make the prohibition law even tighter than at present, while the second, if adopted, would make the constitution more liberal than at present.

The first amendment would prohibit the manufacture, production, transportation, sale, barter, possession, consumption or use of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.

The second amendment would make unlawful the sale of intoxicating liquor and it would be unlawful to keep, maintain or operate any hotel, inn, tavern, house, room or place where any intoxicating liquors are sold "unless the judge of the probate court, in his sole and absolute discretion, shall have previously granted a license therefor and unless such license is unrevoked."

The petitions were under the signature of Charles H. Hubbell of Cleveland, who was defeated for state supreme court judge on the Democratic ticket in the last election.

High Winds Hit Some Sections; Ohio Due To Benefit from Rain and Snow

By The Associated Press.

Drouth and unemployment relief in the form of heavy snows swept over the middlewest and Atlantic seaboard states over the week-end, providing considerable moisture for crops and work for unemployed.

The relief however was not without its tragedy, 23 deaths being attributed to the storm. Many were injured and considerable property damage was caused by high winds which accompanied the snow. Unemployment relief came when men were put to work clearing streets and highways in many states.

Europe too was visited by a storm of considerable proportions, heavy snows and rains being reported in England and most of the continent. Extremely low temperatures were reported.

While no death or serious injuries were reported in Ohio, there was a heavy snowfall which agronomists said was beneficial to crops and which health authorities said would go a long way toward relieving the water shortage in the southern part of the state.

KIRKLAND MURDER TRIAL NEAR CLOSE

Final Arguments Set for Today; Opening Delayed as Snow Stalls Autos.

By The Associated Press

VALPARAISO, Ind., March 9—Evidence gave way to oratory today as rival counsel began to sum up testimony which the state of Indiana relies upon to send Virgil Kirkland to the Michigan City prison electric chair for the death of Arlene Draves, his 18-year-old sweetheart.

For 12 days the seven men making the final arguments have parried and thrust at each others' contentions regarding happenings at a Gary, Ind., drinking party last Nov. 29 which tragically ended in the death of the girl. Kirkland and four others were charged with her attack and murder.

Through two weeks of testimony, interrupted one day while the body was exhumed at Reynolds, Ind., and a second autopsy, sought by the defense, was performed, avid crowds of spectators stormed the old Porter county courthouse to listen to the lurid narrations.

The opening session today was delayed by failure of witnesses and attorneys to arrive. Several were snowbound in farm homes and automobiles were stalled in drifts which blocked the highways.

TRIO OF BUSINESS LEADERS INDICTED

Col. Lea and Two Others Face Federal Court Charge in Tennessee.

By The Associated Press

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 9 — Colonel Luke Lea, publisher, Rogers Caldwell, financier and J. Basil Ramsey, banker, were revealed today as the three men indicted Saturday in the federal court at Greenville, Tenn., on charges of violating federal banking laws in transactions with the closed Holston Union National bank at Knoxville.

Two indictments were returned against each defendant. One charged conspiracy to violate the national banking laws and the other alleged two specific violations of the federal banking laws by Ramsey, aided and abetted by Caldwell and Lea.

False Entry Charged

The conspiracy indictment alleged that on March 31, Lea, Caldwell and Ramsey entered into a conspiracy whereby Ramsey made a $98,000 false entry in the bank's records and misapplied the bank's credit in that amount.

Specifically, the indictment charges that Ramsey, in entering the total individual deposits, included an item of $98,000 credit to the joint individual account of Lea and Caldwell, when no such transaction had taken place.

It was the purpose of Ramsey, the indictment alleges, to "deceive" the offices of the federal reserve bank, of which the Holston union was a member, the comptroller of the currency and the federal bank examiners.

Lea Political Leader

Colonel Lea is one of the most spectacular persons in Tennessee. Since young manhood he has taken an active part in politics and journalism.

At one time he controlled five newspapers in the state. He now operates an evening and morning paper in Nashville. He served in the United States senate in the Wilson administration and then changed his senatorial toga for an officer's uniform, organized a regiment and led it to France.

BARRYMORE GIVES ROLE TO 'UNKNOWN' BECAUSE SHE LOOKS LIKE HIS WIFE

The selection of Marian Marsh (right) by John Barrymore as his new leading woman was attributed to the fact that she resembles the actor's wife, Dolores Costello (left).

• • •

By The Associated Press.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — You're right, they do look much alike — Dolores Costello and Marian Marsh.

And some say that is one big reason why John Barrymore has picked Marian as his new leading woman.

She was 17 and virtually unknown when Barrymore was asked to select a heroine for his new picture. Sixty girls lined up for the tryouts.

Marian's previous acting experience had been confined to a few "bit" parts in the movies and a short stage engagement in Los Angeles, but she won.

• • •

THEN they said she got the role because she resembled Dolores Costello, and Barrymore often has said that Miss Costello was the most satisfactory leading woman of his screen career.

Now, as Mrs. Barrymore, she is kept pretty busy as the mother of little Dolores' Ethel Mae, but she has announced her return to the screen.

It was a "break" for Miss Marsh when she won the role of Trilby in Barrymore's "Svengali," but that's not all. Already it has been decided that she will continue as his leading woman in his next vehicle.

Wagner Unemployment Measure in List Sent on "Pocket" Route

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 9—President Hoover today cleared his desk of bills sent him by the last congress by giving four minor bills a pocket veto along with the Wagner unemployment bill.

The Wagner bill went into the President's pocket Saturday after he had issued a statement saying he could not sign it because in providing for state employment agencies subsidized by the federal government it completely wrecked the department of labor's employment service.

Two of the bills the President vetoed today were minor claim measures. The other two were bills providing for changes in free mailing privileges and in the financial setup covering village letter carriers.

There in the post hospital shortly afterward an eight-pound boy was born.

Believed To Have Sold Revolver Suspected as Potter Murder Weapon.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., March 9 — A former Cleveland patrolman, Morris Lieberman, was sought today for questioning by investigators of the murder of former Councilman William E Potter

Police believe Lieberman sold the revolver to "Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin, which Martin allegedly used in the killing. Lieberman was sought in Houston, Tex and in New Orleans. Martin is held in jail here on an indictment charging first degree murder.

Chief of Police George J. Matowitz said the man hunted in Houston was not involved in the murder but is "an important link in the investigation."

STORM BENEFITS FARMERS

Mid-West Snow Blanket Provides Moisture in Drouth Area.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 9—Silver linings appeared today in the storm clouds that brought a two-day blizzard to the corn belt states of the middlewest and left a trail of deaths estimated at 16.

Farmers throughout the area, which has suffered from lack of moisture this winter, were rejoicing at the heavy blanket of snow, while thousands of unemployed had money in their pockets which otherwise would not have been there if the storm had not struck. In Chicago, alone, 35,000 men were put to work clearing away the drifts.

While no definite figures were available as to the benefits to agriculture, agriculturists believed the benefits would far outweigh the damage to property.

Prof. R. A. Moore of the agronomy department of the University of Wisconsin said it would mean "hundreds of thousands of dollars to the future crop output."

Thirteen of the 16 deaths reported in Chicago. Among the victims was an 18-year old boy, who was electrocuted when he touched a high tension wire while sweeping snow from the top of a street car—the first job he had been able to find in months.

LEGISLATURE TO ACT ON IMPORTANT BILLS

Repeal Proposal, Relief Plan Measure Top Ohio Legislative Calendar.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 9—Ohio's much-discussed criminal syndicalism law will share the limelight in the state legislature this week when a bill to repeal the war time statute is expected to reach the house floor along with several other important measures.

Opposed by various patriotic organizations, the repeal proposal is slated for a vote either tomorrow or Wednesday. The law was enacted during the World war and the repealists claim it hampers free speech in peace times

Other bills up for action by the house are the "yellow dog" measure and the administration's relief plan. The latter proposes an appropriation of $80,000 to be used on state projects as a means of providing employment for persons affected by economic distress.

The "yellow dog" bill backed by organized labor, would outlaw contracts whereby employes agree not to affiliate with unions.

House committees will take up the old age pension bill and the Greenlund borough government resolution tomorrow.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY OF N. Y. UNDER FIRE

Sweeping Graft Investigation Extends into Office of Higher Up Official.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 9—By appointment of Governor Roosevelt former Judge Samuel Seabury, head of the magistrates court inquiry was authorized today to investigate charges of misfeasance in office preferred against Thomas C. T. Crain, district attorney of New York county.

On the basis of allegations made by the City club, the governor named Mr. Seabury a special commissioner.

The City club alleged in a petition to the governor that Mr. Crain had been "incompetent, ineffective and futile" since he took office on Jan. 1, 1930, and demanded his removal. The petition cited 12 instances in which it was charged he had failed efficiently to prosecute graft and corruption.

Mr. Crain made this comment: "The charges are unfounded, and they will be answered and refuted at the proper time and in the proper way."

Mr. Seabury has uncovered evidence indicating that a league of vice squad police, lawyers, bondsmen and court attaches conspired to frame scores of women and petty criminals and shake them down in return for their freedom. Three magistrates have resigned as the result of revelations and more than 30 policemen have been suspended.

They Couldn't Know

BACK IN 1818 the greatest newspaper of the day declared that the world had reached the limit of human expansion. It even went further, saying that there weren't enough supplies in the world to support further growth of population.

The mind of 1818 couldn't conceive of the miracles that human ingenuity would perform during the twentieth century. It couldn't imagine the wonders that would be wrought by new agricultural methods and modern manufacturing genius. It was ignorant of transportation as we know it, or the progressive sales methods of today. It could not see the vital part that would be played by advertising.

Even today there are some who fail to realize what an important factor advertising has become. Advertising is as much a part of today's life as electricity, antiseptic surgery or automobiles. It keeps us up to date on the many things we need in order to live profitable, happy and useful lives. It presents for our approval articles of all kinds and for all purposes. The requirements of each member of the family are met by advertised offers of good merchandise of proved value.

The advertisements save time, money and effort for those who read them and follow their guidance. They are practical guarantees of satisfaction.

At this time, the village of Bucyrus under the terms of the agreement, paid the T. & C. C. (since leased to the New York Central) $80,000 in municipal bonds voted by the people to erect its roundhouse and other shops in Bucyrus.

Under the terms of the 1880 contract, the T. & C. C. was to designate its Bucyrus holdings as its sole construction and repair shops in Ohio, and was to man and operate them perpetually and keep them in repair.

Attempting to justify his company's intended removal of its shops to Collinwood, near Cleveland, Emery stated that the switch was forced by "sheer economic necessity."

"We are using bigger, more powerful and more efficient locomotives. They will run thousands of miles further before needing overhauling and mechanical repairs. In fact two of our present locomotives will do the work of three old-timers.

"Since these lines have been taken over by the New York Central, the Collinwood shops of the "Central" are available, a condition which did not prevail previously.

No Longer Adequate

"Collinwood can accommodate the locomotives now served by Bucyrus without being taxed to capacity," Emery declared.

According to the Ohio executive, Bucyrus shops no longer are adequate—not modern enough to serve the newer locomotives.

"It would cost our company in the neighborhood of $100,000 to modernize the Bucyrus shops—and then we wouldn't need them."

"We realize that our removal mean a considerable blow to the town," said Emery.

"We offered to discuss a cash settlement—no fixed sum, but along lines at least commensurate to the sum mentioned as cash forfeiture in case the 1880 contract ever were abrogated."

Bucyrus officials and citizenry would hear to no terms, Emery said, except that the company remain in status quo. Negotiations could not be made and the N. Y. C. was told: "It's your move."

"And so we did—or we are making an attempt to do so," concluded Emery.

In case the final writ of restraining the N. Y. C. from moving its shops, and affirming the validity of the contract as of 1880 indications today point toward an appeal by the railroad to a higher tribunal.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

It's the joyful cry of thousands since Dr Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel but a healing, soothing, vegetable laxative that is safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" —bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—a headache—torpid liver—constipation—you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c—Adv.

HIT AT TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT

Council Members Request Police To Arrest Violators of Laws.

Special to The Star.

KENTON, March 9—Strict observance of the automatic traffic lights at street intersections in the uptown business district, elimination of double parking, principally by trucks, and the parking of passenger busses are among the major traffic problems which members of the Kenton city council would like to see cleared up.

Requests have already been filed with the mayor and service director to instruct police officials to keep a close watch for violators of existing traffic regulations and laws and to make arrests.

"Too frequently motorists disregard the red danger signals at street intersections and unless the practice is halted a serious accident will result," one councilman said. "Arrests of violators and fining them will soon put a stop to this condition."

Council also requests that steps be taken to eliminate double parking in so far as is possible in the uptown district since the practice results in traffic tie-ups and increases the hazards to motorists. Their chief complaint was against double parking of trucks.

They also asked that the law forbidding the parking of machines in alleyways be enforced. Should a fire break in the uptown district, it was pointed out, it would be next to impossible for the fire trucks to traverse any of the alleyways.

HARDING ELIMINATED IN TOURNAMENT

COLUMBUS CENTRAL DEFEATS PRESIDENTS 28 TO 17 SATURDAY

Marion Five Closes Season with Four Wins in 14 Starts.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

MARION Harding was eliminated Saturday night from the central district class A tournament at Delaware by Central High school of Columbus. The final score was 28 to 17. By virtue of the victory Central moves into the semi-finals of the tournament which will be played next Friday.

Columbus started the game with Harding as though it intended to make a complete rout of the contest before the end of the first half. Mawhirter, all-city guard in the Columbus scholastic race this season, and Matthews, one of the classiest colored forwards to play against Harding this season, led an assault on the Harding bucket that put the Buccaneers ahead 10-0 at the end of the first period.

Harding Gets Going

In the second frame the situation was exactly the reverse. Harding clamped down on the Pirate five and held it scoreless for the entire frame. Davy Merkel, Harding forward playing his last game for the Presidents looped the first two points through the net for the local five. Morgan and Ling followed with another pair to give Harding six points for the period. The score at the half was 10-6 for Central.

Columbus again gained control in the third frame and dominated the situation for the remainder of the game. Harding could not cope with the superior floorwork and passing game of the capital city team although on several occasions the Marion five launched momentary spurts, which, had they lasted for any time, would have made Harding a distinct threat to the winners.

Season is Closed

The defeat by Central closed the basketball season for Harding. A total of 14 games were played including the tournament and four victories were recorded. Ten defeats were chalked up against the Marion team. Harding collected a total of 252 points. Opposing teams gathered a total of 275 points against the Harding quintet. These figures give Harding an average of 18 points a game and allow opponents an average of slightly more than 19½ points a game.

FLAG HOPES FLARE IN SENATOR'S CAMP

Everybody from Manager to Bat Boy Believes Solons Will Win Pennant.

By The Associated Press

BILOXI, Miss., March 9—An epidemic of pennant fever in its most virulent form has descended upon the camp of the Washington Senators here. Apparently no one in any way connected with the establishment is immune. It's in the very air that wafts in off the placid bay.

From President Clark Griffith down to Frankie Baxter, assistant trainer.

The Nationals believe it is their year. Although not quite so outspoken, Manager Walt Johnson is hit as hard as any of them. Johnson says he can't figure out any club in the American league good enough to outrun his boys.

The athletes, themselves, are fired up. They sense a flag, and there are no holdouts. The veteran batterymen, like Fred Marberry who normally do not reach their best form until a month after the campaign begins, started preliminary conditioning weeks ago and are further advanced than they have been at this stage in years.

All Posts Filled

There is little for the big train to do except get his men in shape. He hasn't a position to worry about. His mound staff, which includes five veterans who won 15 or more games last season and ranked first in earned runs allowed, is intact. His infield is set, with plenty of reserve strength; the same with the outfield.

It is the same outfit that was five games in front last Decoration day, only to slump when Henry Manush was injured. Club officials record it, withal, as the greatest team Washington has had, not excepting those of '24 and '25.

About the only thing Johnson feels he could use right now is a little better hitting behind the plate, and it looks like he has found that in Cliff Bolton, a chunky receiver who hit .377 for Chattanooga last season. The coaches are putting in overtime with Bolton, trying to improve his fielding. Roy Spencer and Bill Hargrave are the veterans of the staff.

Hurling Is Strong

Alvin Crowder, Sam Jones, Fred Marberry, Lloyd Brown and Irving Hadley comprise the "big five" of the pitching corps. All were winners last year, turning in 79 victories. Burke, who showed promise last year, complete the veteran staff. Lynn Griffith, who won 21 for Joplin in the Western association, looks like the outstanding prospect among five rookies in camp.

The inner works is strongly fortified, with Joe Judge at first, Charley Myer at second, Joe Cronin at short and Ossie Bluege on third. Bluege alone of the quartet hit under .300 last season. In reserve at first, the Senators have Joe Kuhel, a brilliant understudy for the aging Judge, and in Jack Hayes a youngster expected to make Myer hustle for the keystone assignment. Wally Dashiell from Chattanooga will get a utility role. Sam West, Sam Rice and Henry Manush make up a ball-hitting outfield. Johnson, quite frankly, says it's the best.

PENN STAR DEFENDS RELAY MEET CROWN

Athletes of Wide Area To Compete in Illinois Indoor Events.

By The Associated Press

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 9—Track and field stars from the midwest, south and east will come to Champaign next Saturday to continue their attack on records in the fourteenth renewal of the University of Illinois relay carnival.

The event, one of the classics of the indoor season, will include four relays for universities, the one mile, two mile, medley and four-mile; a mile relay, medley and two-mile event, for colleges, and an open 320-yard high hurdle shuttle relay. Special events are the 75-yard dash, 75-yard high and low hurdles, 300-yard dash, 1,000-yard run, 1,500 meter run, broad jump, high jump, pole vault and shot-put.

One of the most attractive events will be the all-around championship largely because Pennsylvania's great Barney Berlinger will attempt to win it for the third straight year. Berlinger last year set a record of 6,070 points and with competition is figured capable of establishing a mark that will stand for a long time. Seven events are included in the all-around; the 75-yard dash, 75-yard high hurdles, shot put, pole vault, high jump, broad jump and 880-yard runs, a thorough test.

Martel Independents Submerge Sparta Five, 42-21.

The Martel Independents were victors over the Sparta Independents in a week-end basketball game 42 to 24. The game was played on the Sparta court. The team will compete in a tournament for independent teams in Ashley on March 13 and 14 and intends to enter the North Central Ohio Amateur tournament to be held in the Star auditorium on March 27 and 28.

Y-IN DUS SURPASSES FORMER WIN RECORD BY BEATING MOUNTS

Local Champions Chalk Up 24th Victory, 35-30; Fostoria Beats Crestline.

THE Shovel Y-Indus basketball team surpassed its last season's record of 23 victories Saturday night on the Steam Shovel court by defeating the Mt. Vernon Y. M. C. A. quintet 35 to 30. The Saturday night victory closes the regular playing season for the Marion five and gives it a record of 24 games won and 10 lost.

The Marion five has still to compete in the state Y. M. C. A. tournament at Hamilton before hanging up the shorts until next season. The state tourney will be played next Saturday.

Fostoria Y. M. C. A. won the class B championship of Northwest Ohio Saturday night in a game played in conjunction with the Y-Indus-Mt. Vernon game at the Shovel. Fostoria defeated Crestline 40 to 22. Fostoria is now eligible to compete in the state tournament for class B teams.

The Shovel Y-Indus had little difficulty in defeating Mt. Vernon although the unerring accuracy on long range attempts of the Knox county boys created considerable anxiety in the ranks of the Marion five late in the game.

Mt. Vernon trailed the locals all through the game, the Y-Indus holding a 15 point lead as the game entered the final period. The visitors then let loose a barrage of long range shots that rapidly cut the local's lead. The Y-Indus however, was never in danger of losing the game.

Walter Lockwood, who was removed from the Y-Indus lineup recently when he went into a slump returned to the lineup in the Mt. Vernon encounter and starred for the Marion five. He was removed in the second half on account of injuries received in a collision with a Mt. Vernon player.

The Crestline-Fostoria contest was a one-sided exhibition, the latter team completely outclassing the Crestline aggregation. Fostoria held a 21-8 lead at the half and retained a 30-16 advantage at the three-quarter point of the game.

Adams Recreation Five Wins Bowling Honors

COLUMBUS, O., March 9—The rumble of bowling balls was stilled today and maple pins remained motionless and silent while state bowlers were at home with new laurels hung up in the Ohio Bowling association.

Beginning February 6, teams and individuals from the entire state assaulted last year's high figures in the tourney this year.

KIRKPATRICK BEATEN BY ONE POINT IN SECOND ROUND FRAY

Morral Wins First, but Is Outclassed in Second; Caledonia Beaten.

BY WALTER VIRTUE
Staff Correspondent, The Star

WESTERVILLE, March 9—Among the 24 teams eliminated in the first and second rounds of the Class B central district tournament at Westerville, Saturday were three Marion county quintets, Caledonia, Kirkpatrick, and Morral, and two Morrow county contenders, Johnsville and Mt. Gilead. Union county is still represented, Marysville turning in victories over Grandview, 21 to 18, and Pickaway, 26 to 17.

After winning from Ashville in the morning 26 to 19, Kirkpatrick lost to New California, 28 to 26 in the afternoon. Hill scored 16 of the 26 points garnered by Kirkpatrick.

Morral Wins One

Morral won in the opening round from Groveport 19 to 17 but was out-classed by Powell in the second game. Powell won 41 to 25. Caledonia went down to defeat in the opening round, losing to Salt Creek 24 to 23.

Johnsville lost to Granville 22 to 16. Mt. Gilead was decisively trounced by Watkins in the opening round 53 to 31. Hagenlocker, Watkins skyscraping center, dropped in 12 buckets and one charity toss for a total of 25 points, the most scored by any one man in the 24 games Saturday.

Magnetic Springs failed to survive the first round, losing to Hyatts 28 to 21. Watkins lost to New Albany 36 to 34 in an over time struggle. Watkins was leading 32 to 31 with only 15 seconds left in the fourth period when a boy ran out on the floor from among the Watkins rooting contingent and warned the players concerning the time. He was seen by the referee who called a technical foul and New Albany knotted the count at 32. In the three minute overtime period New Albany sunk two baskets and Watkins only one.

Lancaster Favored

Lancaster St Mary emerged from the first round games as a favorite to win the district Class B championship. The 1930 class B champs won from Hyatts 31 to 20 mainly through the play of Bernard Berens, the six feet seven inch center who was awarded all state honors last year. Berens scored 21 points in the game.

The eight teams who will return for the third round Friday are New California, Granville, Pleasantville, Monroe, Marysville, Powell, Lancaster St. Mary, and New Albany. Four of these will meet in the semi-finals Saturday afternoon and the finals will be played at eight p. m. Saturday.

GALION ORANGEMEN ARE VICTORIOUS IN SECTIONAL TOURNEY

Shelby Loses Overtime Battle to Winners; Games Are Hard-Fought.

Special to The Star.

BUCYRUS, O., March 9—Galion emerged victorious Saturday night in the final game of the class A northwest sectional basketball tournament in Bucyrus. The Orangemen defeated Shelby in the final game after a desperate overtime battle 32 to 26. The winners will compete at Findlay on March 14 in the district tournament, the winner of which will go to Columbus for the state tournament.

In the semi-final games of the tournament, played Saturday afternoon, Shelby was the winner over Mansfield 35-32 after playing two overtime periods. Galion had little difficulty in the semi-final, defeating Fostoria 36 to 19.

It took a substitute forward, Hazlet, to put Mansfield back into the running against Shelby late in a semi-final game. Hazlet entered the fray late in the last frame and tied the count with a field goal. The score was 29-29 at the end of the game and 31-31 at the end of the first extra period. Shelby came through in the second five minutes with four points to win 35-32.

Shelby put up a hard battle against Galion in the final game of the tourney. Play was unusually rough, both teams having a large number of fouls charged against them. Hoekstra, Galion's star pivot man, was benched with four personals after playing only about two minutes of the second frame. Two Shelby men had three against them.

The score at the end of the regular playing time was 24-24. In the overtime period, Galion went on a scoring spree that left Shelby trailing several points before the first extra minute was completed. The final count was 32-26.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meat, Grain, Livestock

Marion grocers today are facing a temporary shortage of eggs that may result in substantial price gains, following activity of hatcheries in buying heavily of farmers at several cents more on the dozen than local wholesale prices.

Eggs were scarce Saturday, raising another cent to land at a price range of 22 to 28 cents, retail.

Strawberries were another scarce special on the market Saturday. Only three or four larger stores were offering them. A week ago a good supply was offered at 28 to 35 cents a pint. The few sold Saturday were quoted at 25 to 30 cents a pint.

STORMS CAUSE PRICE GAINS

Wheat Higher on Reports of Mid-West Blizzards; Corn Also Up.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 9—Grain prices went upward early today, stimulated by storm effects in the corn belt and by curtailment of wheat stocks at Liverpool. The amount of wheat on ocean passage showed 3,520,000 bushels decrease, compared with a week ago. Starting at ¾@¾ cents advance, corn later held near to the initial range. Wheat opened ¼ off to ¾ 70, and subsequently scored an additional advanced.

Indications that the peak of the season's movement of corn had been passed helped to strengthen prices. Affected by rough weather, Chicago receipts totaled but 112 cars, against 364 a week ago and 392 at this time last year. Primary arrivals were only 890,000 bushels, compared with 1,377,000 a week back and 1,542,000 on the corresponding day of 1930.

Wheat advanced despite primary receipts aggregating 2,455,000 bushels, against 2,334,000 a week ago and 894,000 at this time last year. Liverpool reported demand better, with Canadian and Argentine offers firmer. In France, the weather was extra unfavorable, and a heavy abandonment of wheat acreage was predicted. India's production was forecast as 53,000,000 bushels less than last year. Oats sympathized with wheat and corn.

MOVIE-MAKING BORES BOB COOGAN

You know Jackie Coogan, and you've heard of his little brother, Robert, but it takes a picture like this to show how much Robert now looks like Jackie once did in "The Kid."

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD — Movie stardom may mean everything to Jackie Coogan, but acting is an unwelcome bore to his five-year-old brother, Robert.

Yet Robert idolizes Jackie—and virtually the only thing he likes about making pictures is that it gives him a chance to do the same things as his older brother.

"Acting is the bunk," he says. "Anyone who wants to be an actor is crazy. Maybe my brother is a star. He can have it.

• • •

YOUNG Robert is making his screen debut with Jackie Cooper in the filming of "Skippy." He will play the part of Sooky, and in the picture he has to stage a fight with Jackie Searl. The two are pals and they didn't relish this assignment.

Robert strong resembles Jackie when the latter played with Charlie Chaplin in "The Kid." He has the same wide-open eyes, the sad mouth and bobbed hair.

His main objection to making pictures is the interruption from his play—every time he starts playing games, they stop him to play in some scene.

• • •

ROBERT has seen only three or four films during his five years, and he doesn't remember anything about Jackie's earlier career because he was only two when Jackie first retired temporarily. He can't read, but has an excellent memory for lines in sequences where talking is required.

One thing that puzzles him, though is the close-up. When told he couldn't move from a given spot on a close-up or he would be out of focus, he inquired earnestly, "But isn't this a moving picture?"

"Keep on Working," Is Motto Voiced by Justice Holmes on 90th Birthday

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 9—Oliver Wendell Holmes went about familiar duties today, exemplifying the philosophy expressed in a radio address on his ninetieth birthday.

"The work is never done while the power to work remains," the aged jurist said.

He spoke only a few brief sentences last night in response to tributes which include a eulogy by Chief Justice Hughes.

Voices Philosophy on Work

"The riders in a race do not stop short when they reach the goal," he said. "There is a little finishing canter before coming to a standstill. There is time to hear the kind voice of friends and to say to oneself: The work is done. But just as one says that, the answer comes. The race is over, but the work is never done while the power to work remains. The canter that brings you to a standstill need not be only coming to rest It cannot be, while you still live. For to live is to function. That is all there is in living.

"And so I end with a line from a Latin poet who uttered the message more than 15 years ago:

" 'Death plucks my ear and says. "Live—I am coming.' "

There in the room with him at the study in his home, saw that the tributes affected him. His voice, however, did not falter. He showed no signs of nervousness at the unfamiliar stare of the microphone.

Quoted by Speakers

All of the speakers quoted from his speeches, writings and decisions. Dean Clark of Yale Law school said Holmes was so often ahead of his time that those who dissented with him today often found themselves agreeing later. Charles A. Boston, president of the American Bar association, said he had profoundly moulded the law and those who make it a profession. They spoke from the studios of the Columbia system in New York.

The chief justice, who associates with him daily at the supreme court, said Holmes was "a constant contradiction of all that great age usually implies."

Crosson Off on Return Trip After Delivernig Anti-Toxin at Point Barrow.

By The Associated Press

POINT BARROW, Alaska, March 9—Joe Crosson, Alaska airman who brought much-needed antitoxin to diphtheria-stricken patients here, was returning to Fairbanks today He took off in the teeth of a 25-mile wind, a great handicap over his snow and ice-covered route.

Crosson said he would stop at Wainwright to determine the quantity of aviation gasoline available there for use of two planes expected to bring more anti-toxin here early this week. He then will continue to Kotzebue and Fairbanks.

Governor Parks has asked that two planes enroute with a motion picture outfit here, take the remainder of the serum requested by Dr. Henry Griest, superintendent of the Presbyterian hospital of Point Barrow.

Another case of diphtheria was discovered today. Five persons were suffering from virulent attacks.

HITS DRY LAW

"Diabolical Influence" Father Coughlin Says in Radio Talk.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Mich., March 9—Opposition to "the law as it now stands" was expressed by Father Charles E. Coughlin in a discussion of prohibition last night during his weekly radio broadcast from the Catholic Church of the Little Flower.

Stating that he is "neither for nor against prohibition," Father Coughlin said that the law as it stands is "the most diabolical influence of the time, destroying the youth of America and the hope of the future."

THEATER NEWS AND REVIEWS

BEASTS OF JUNGLE BECOME ACTORS IN "RANGO" AT MARION

Cameramen Brave Terrors of Sumatra To Make Picture.

SNARLING tigers and chattering monkeys furnish most of the action in "Rango," the jungle picture which opened for a three-day run at the Marion yesterday.

Why the theater-going public doesn't patronize pictures of this type is a mystery. The photographers risked their lives getting close-ups of man-eating tigers, to say nothing of the hardships they underwent in the torrid climate of Sumatra, the island on which the picture was taken. Th public seems to have an idea that the pictures are "faked," but such is not the case.

If you saw "Chang," the elephant picture of about three years ago, you'll know what to expect in "Rango," for it's the same type.

"Rango" is an orang-outang, the most man-like of all animals. His capture by a native boy, his subsequent recovery by his mother, and his death from the terrific claws of a tiger make up the story. The tiger's death in a battle with a water buffalo, the only animal unafraid of the jungle outlaw, brings the picture to a close.

The picture is produced by Ernest Schoedsack, co-producer of "Chang," "Grass," and "The Four Feathers." It is released by Paramount.

A newsreel and a talkartoon complete the program. G. W.

NEW STAR IN "BODY AND SOUL"

Although the story lags occasionally in interest, "Body and Soul," starring Charles Farrell and Elissa Landi and which opened yesterday at the Palace, has an element of suspense that makes it a picture worth seeing. Fox movietone produced the film.

Miss Landi is the new European star whose debut is made in this picture. She plays the part of the sweetheart of an American flying ace and is accused of being a spy. How the ace, played by Farrell, clears her is the denouement of the story.

One of the best scenes in the picture is that of a pilotless American plane which crashes into two Fokkers of a pursuing German squadron.

The vaudeville is only average in quality. Opening with Vera Spriggs & Co, aerial butterflies, this feature of the program continues with Jack and Reta LaPearl in a rube skit and then closes with Four Beaux and a Belle, which is easily the best of the three acts. This quintet is billed as "a merry, mad melange of songs, dance and music."

In addition to the feature and the vaudeville, the program also includes a Paramount short, "The Pest," with Tom Howard. The entire program will be given again today and tonight.

"STOLEN HEAVEN" OPENS AT PALACE THEATER TUESDAY

Nancy Carroll and Phillips Holmes Star in Thrilling Picture.

"STOLEN HEAVEN," with Nancy Carroll and Phillips Holmes, will come to the Palace Tuesday for a three-day engagement.

The story pertains to two youths both beaten by life, who attempt to have one last fling with some money stolen by the boy. They head for a Florida resort, mingle with society, and then they come to the realization that they love one another.

The law is upon them, however, before they can make their escape. Finally the girl, in desperation, obtains enough money from an admirer to make up the amount stolen, but the boy refuses to purchase his freedom. Both he and the girl resolve to pay the penalty.

LIGHTNER AND BROWN TEAM IN "SIT TIGHT"

Winnie Lightner and Joe. E. Brown, star comedy team, filled the Ohio with laughter yesterday when their new picture, "Sit Tight," opened for a four-day run.

Winnie is the owner of a health institute and Brown is co-manager of the place, where patients are pounded, stretched, steamed, psycho-analyzed and otherwise maltreated.

Not content with operating a health institute, Winnie also attempts to train an amateur wrestler into a champion. The wrestler's sweetheart opposes the plan, the father kidnaps the youth and the fun continues aboard a Florida-bound yacht.

The picture is produced by Warner Bros. and Vitaphone. The usual short subjects also are on the program.

LIVESTOCK AT LOWER PRICES

Market Scale One-Third Under Year Ago, Ohio Bureau Reports.

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., March 9—A bulletin issued here today by the Ohio Farm Bureau Corporation says that Livestock prices are now about one-third under a year ago. The downward course of prices over the past few months might easily lead to the belief that prices are much lower than they are, the bulletin states, continuing:

Cattle prices now average around $8 a hundred pounds at Chicago, as against $12.41 a year ago. Feeder cattle have declined from $11 to $6.75 during the past year. The price for beef cattle is fairly well in line with the price for feeders. Much of the present finished cattle was purchased as higher priced feeder stock some months ago.

The better grades of beef have declined from something like $21 a hundred pounds to as low as $15. This recession in the price of beef is at about the same proportions as the price for cattle.

Cows are now selling in Chicago at $6 a hundred pounds in comparison with a price of $9.50 for the same grades a year ago. Cow beef is down to $10, whereas last March the average was $16. Veal Calves are reported at $8.75 against $12.50 last year.

These Chicago prices are fairly good indicators of the comparisons between prices at the markets which are most popular among Ohio cattle men and dairymen.

The near future for cattle prices apparently is dependent largely on general business conditions. Lower milk prices or a continuance of present low milk and cream prices will undoubtedly lead to the further selling of cows. Good crops this summer may revive the market for feeders. Perhaps the best bet on cattle prices calls for no great change from present levels in the near future.

Hog prices have declined to about the same degree as have cattle prices.

Dempsey Gives Inside Dope on Popeye's Wallop

Knockout Power Due to Low Center of Gravity and Huge Forearms.

BY JACK DEMPSEY
Former World's Heavyweight Champion

POPEYE is the finest fighting machine I've ever seen in the ring or out. And when I call him a machine, I don't mean to detract from those human qualities that have made him a favorite, idol of the millions who like a right to the chin—provided it is somebody else's chin.

DEMPSEY

As a fighting machine even an engineer would have difficulty in making improvements. Battleships are a case in point. Whenever an engineer—they're called naval architects, really—design an invulnerable battleship, some other bright lad invents a shell that will blow it up.

Popeye doesn't blow up in the fight. That's because he can't be hit hard enough to make an impression on him. He's got a chin that should be analyzed to obtain a formula for armor steel. The geography of his face makes it almost impossible to reach his nose, unless his opponent has wings and can strike from above.

He can completely outwit his opponents in a scrap because, as he says, he thinks with his "fisks," for that reason he is never in danger of "telegraphing" his intentions to his enemies, or of getting "punch drunk" from blows to the head. Even if he did, his "fisks" still could go on thinking.

The imposing knockout record the fighting sailor has built up during his brief career is due to two physical peculiarities—his low center of gravity and the enormous forearms.

By low center of gravity I don't mean that he's lacking in humor. Far from that. Only a man with a great sense of humor could fight with so much pleasure as Popeye.

The importance of a low center of gravity has never been sufficiently stressed in pugilism. The trouble is that most fighters are built too high from the ground. Take Max Schmeling, for instance. If he'd been built closer to the ground, Jack Sharkey's wild punch never would have fouled him.

In addition to protection from foul blows, the low center of gravity makes for more powerful punches. The favorite knockout blow is the punch that "starts from the floor." If it lands it is effective, because it carries the full weight of the fighter behind it. Being built close to the ground, Papeye gets this advantage in many of his punches, as his fallen opponents can testify.

In respect to Popeye's arms, it must be admitted that they are ideal for the fighting man. Every fighter must develop the power of his forearms to get into his blows the snap that hurts. Popeye was fortunate in that he was born with powerful arms.

Last, but not least, Popeye is a great fighter because he has the will to fight. He loves it. The harder he's hit, the more he loves it. He has the "killer instinct," tempered by a soft-heartedness that makes him a favorite—mine as well as yours.

What the NEW HUMIDOR PACK

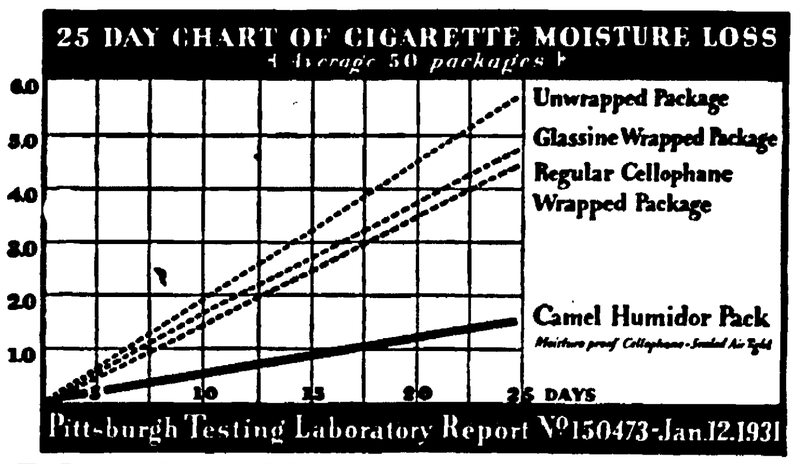
means to Camel Smokers *

COMPARE a package of Camels with any other cigarette and note the difference in the technique of packing.

Note that Camels are completely enclosed in an outer transparent cover of moisture-proof cellophane and sealed air-tight at every point.

We call this outer shell the Humidor Pack. It differs from the ordinary cellophane pack and while it is egg-shell thin, it means a lot in terms of cigarette enjoyment.

It means, for instance, that evaporation is checkmated and that Salt Lake City can now have as good Camels as Winston-Salem.



The Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory chart above graphically shows you that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition

While Camels are made of a blend of the choicest Turkish and mellowest domestic tobaccos, it is highly important, if you are to get full benefit of this quality, that these cigarettes come to you with their natural moisture content still intact.

The Humidor Pack insures that. It prevents the fine tobaccos of Camels from drying out and losing any of their delightful flavor.

Aside from cheap tobacco, two factors in a cigarette can mar the smoker's pleasure:

Fine particles of peppery dust if left in the tobacco by inefficient cleaning methods sting and irritate delicate throat membrane.

Dry tobacco, robbed of its natural moisture by scorching or by evaporation gives off a hot smoke that burns the throat with every inhalation.

We take every precaution against these factors here at Winston-Salem.

A special vacuum cleaning apparatus removes dust and now the new Humidor Pack prevents dryness.

Check the difference yourself

It is a very simple matter to check the difference between Humidor Packed Camels and other ordinary dry cigarettes.

First of all you can feel the difference as you roll the cigarettes between your fingers. Camels are full-bodied and pliable. A dry cigarette crumbles under pressure and sheds tobacco.

If you will hold a cigarette to each ear and roll them with your fingers you can actually hear the difference.

The real test of course is to smoke them. And here's where the new Humidor Pack proves a real blessing to the smoker.

As you inhale the cool, fragrant smoke from a Camel you get all the mildness and magic of the fine tobaccos of which it is blended.

But when you draw in the hot smoke from a dried cigarette see how flat and brackish it is by comparison and how harsh it is to your throat.

If you are a regular Camel smoker you have already noticed what proper condition of the cigarette means

But if you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack you have a new adventure with Lady Nicotine in store.

Switch your affections for just one day, then go back to your old love tomorrow if you can.

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, N. C.

If Jose doesn't watch out, he's liable to be accused of sacrilege by the self-asserted high-brow element.

We have mislaid the card index by which we have been keeping tab on the succession of governments in Peru, but if our memory serves us correctly, Lieutenant Colonel Jiminez, who overthrew the five-day-old junta headed by Dr. Ricardo Leoncio Elias, which had previously overthrown the provisional government of Lieutenant Colonel Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, is merely holding dow the job temporarily, to give place to some leader of the southern Peruvian rebels.

The Lorbach Bill.

There is a movement afoot to raise the limit to which municipalities may go in buying or selling good or letting contracts without advertising for competitive bids. Senator David Lorbach, of Cincinnati, has introduced a bill, which already has passed the state senate and is now pending in the house, to amend the provision of the Ohio general code governing the powers of municipalities by increasing the present limit of $500 to $1,000. It goes without the saying that the bill has the support of many city officials.

We can readily understand that a $500 limit on the purchases which may legally be made or the contracts which may legally be let by a municipality without competitive bidding may seem trifling to the residents of our larger cities, such as Cleveland, Cincinnati and half a dozen others, but the purpose of the provision is twofold. It keeps the citizens of a municipality in touch with the purchasing and contract-letting activities of the city government, and it is a bar to favoritism in the making of purchases or the letting of contracts. That it is a bar, or at least serves as a bar to favoritism, is made evident by the attempts of city governments, at times, to circumvent it by breaking up contracts and bills for purchases. And no matter what may be the mind of the citizens of our larger population centers, the great majority of Ohio cities are comparatively small, and their business concerns and contractors are interested in expenditures even though they do not exceed $500, to say nothing of $1,000, and want to be informed, and have a right to be informed, when the city plans to make them that they make make a bid on the goods to be purchased or the work to be done.

Should the bill reach Governor White, it is to be hoped that he will see the justice of giving all citizens of a community the right to make bids for goods to be supplied or work to be performed which will necessitate an expenditure in excess of the present $500 limit provided by the general code.

Musical Racketeering.

During the last few months, several articles disclosing the deceptions, impositions and frauds practiced in Europe against young singers aspiring to operatic career, have appeared in one or two magazines of established reputation and in at least one metropolitan newspaper of high standing and nationwide reputation. If we are to credit Konrad Bercovici, novelist and musician, whose latest novel is just off the press, the musical racket is worked to fully as great extent here in the United States as it is on the other side of the Atlantic.

Setting out that he has spent several years in investigating conditions here at home and abroad, Mr. Bercovici asserts that, while abuses here in America do not go to the extent they do at times in Europe, the racketeering in the musical line in New York City has reached unprecedented proportions.

The plan followed here is practically that which obtains abroad, according to Mr. Bercovici. It starts with the "teachers of voice" and continues through a singer's career. Singing teachers in New York maintain a minimum fee of $25 for twenty minutes of instruction. New York alone has not less than 2,000 singing teachers and there are more than 20,000 in the world.

"Out of these," the novelist-musician went on to say in a recent interview, "not more than ten are competent. The result is that not more than five or six singers in the world make a successful debut in one year. While in the training stage, as long as they have money, they are discouraged and sent from one fraudulent vocal 'specialist' to another until they finally abandon hope of a musical career or become destitute."

So extensive are the operations of the racketeers, Mr. Bercovici continued, that it costs a young singer more rather than less than $35,000 and three years' study to obtain a debut, and it is the rare exception where the singer doesn't have to pay handsomely for the privilege of making his or her debut without getting any of the proceeds of the opera or concert in which the debut is made—in Europe, usually in opera in some small city; here in America in concert. The customary price for a debut in a city of any considerable size in Europe is $2,500, but the singer may be assessed more or less according to what the belief of the racketeers may be regarding the ability of the singer to pay. The rule is to get all the traffic will stand, and a case is noted where the sum of $30,000 was charged for a Paris debut.

There are hundreds upon hundreds of young Americans in Europe, who went there because of the lower charges for "instruction" and the lower cost of living, who, appreciating the futility of further endeavor and ashamed to come home in admission of failure, are eking out an existence in any employment which they may be able to secure.

There may be some prejudice on the part of this particular novelist and musician. All the writers of articles along the same line may be in some way prejudiced, but it is hardly probable that stories in similar trend would come from so many disassociated sources were they without any foundation.

Taking them at their face value, the outlook can hardly be said to be good for the operatic and concert stage.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon last week received bids aggregating $3,734,000,000 for his offering of $1,400,000,000 of 3¾ per cent. bonds and 1½ and two per cent. certificates. Uncle Sam's credit seems to be good despite the efforts of congress to weaken it.

Preparing for Arbor Day.

Governor White has set apart Friday, April 10, as Arbor and Bird day—one month away.

Proper observance, however, depends not at all on the speeches and symbolic exercises that may come that day. It depends on the day-to-day conduct of the citizenry, and their attitude toward the natural blessing of trees and bird life.

When a man mutilates or destroys a tree needlessly, he has no conception of the meaning of Arbor day, regardless of the fervency of his celebration of it. When harmless birds are slaughtered by the hundred for idle pleasure, some one has failed to understand why Ohio and every other state in the union observes definite obligations to the bountifulness of nature by setting one day apart for that particular purpose.

Arbor and Bird day, in this state as in all others, is merely a day on which a year-around duty is recalled and described for the benefit of the careless and the untaught. Conduct that indicates Arbor day is the only day of the year when birds and trees are objects of devotion is unpatriotic.

Citizens of British Columbia of both sexes who receive an income of more than $12 a week will be compelled to pay one per cent. tax in addition to all existing taxes to enable the province to pay its way without borrowing. How would taxation such as this be received down here south of the international line?

The world, according to the scientists, has been putting on the most intensive shimmy of record during the last twenty-two years. Some scientists believe it is due to heavy seas beating on coast lines, as such shimmying usually occurs while great seas are running, but they admit that this is but a guess, and as yet microseisms are still one of old Mother Nature's mysteries.

The Kansas City women who shot and killed her husband as an indirect result of his failure to make a four-spade bid has been acquitted of his murder. Bridge-playing husbands of young and good-looking wives should either exercise the utmost care to make their bids or drop the game entirely. It has become extra hazardous.

The latest pronouncement on the solar system by that eminent scientist, Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva, of Zion City, is that what explorer have taken for the south polar regions is merely the rim of ice which keeps us from falling off the earthly pancake and that the sun is only about thirty-two miles in diameter and but about twenty-seven miles away. It's fearful to think of the way humanity will be compelled to work its forgetting equipment.

LEFT HOLDING THE BAG.

Editorial Opinion.

A COSTLY CONGRESS.

The seventy-first congress, which died in Washington Wednesday, will live in history, according to a member of the house appropriations committee, as "a heavy spender." As a matter of fact, it was the heaviest spending peacetime congress in the history of the country. Approximately $10,000,000,000 was appropriated by it for governmental services during the current and the next fiscal years.

A disconcerting fact about this enormous enlargement of governmental outlay is that it was voted during a period of business contraction and consequently in the face of falling revenues. The first bitter fruit of it will be tasted by the taxpayers on the approaching Ides of March, when those in the $4,000 or less class will have to pay income tax three times as high as last year's. They will be fortunate if next year they do not have to pay even more. The Democrats and renegade Republicans in the last congress are chiefly responsible for that unpleasant prospect, a fact that should not be lost sight of before November, 1932.

Annual expenses of the federal government before the World war seldom reached $2,000,000,000. The average cost of running the government for this year and next will be two and a half times that figure. Some of this increase has been unavoidable. The war left heavy commitments behind it. Annual charges on a war-inflated public debt have to be met. Already approximately $5,000,000,000 has been spent on veterans of the World war. Agriculture demanded and got a federal farm board and $500,000,000. The recent short session appropriated $66,000,000 for drought relief.

The late congress reeked with paternalism, against which a rebellion in the ranks of his own party in the senate made Mr. Hoover's efforts toward economy less effective than they otherwise would have been. As a result of this tendency to tax all the people for the benefit of a few, added to necessary enlargements of the federal budget, we are faced with a $5,000,000,000 bill next year, which will mean to 25,000,000 families a levy of $200 on each of them. Can we go on indefinitely increasing our outlay on the federal government, which still costs us far less than state and local government, at this rate, without seriously impairing our capital reserve for constructive enterprise?—Detroit Free Press.

MYTH OF "THE PEOPLE."

The country recently commemorated the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Many members of the congress used the occasion to deliver eulogies of Lincoln and to quote from his famous Gettysburg address, but no one of them called attention to the fact that his plea that "government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth" has, in these times, been practically negatived by the congress.

The government described by Lincoln's words is now the great myth of our American system. The proposition put forth by Woodrow Wilson, in his first classic book on government, that we are now the subjects of "congressional government," instead of constitutional government, has reached its consummate demonstration.

Precedents, party, principles, and presidents do not cause any hesitation in the actions of congressmen. They are intent upon serving their personal political fortunes, the "interests" that are their main supporters, and those socialistic schemes which appear for the day to be popular with powerful elements among the voters.

No congress in all the history of the nation has shown less regard for the rights and interests of the states and of "the people" as a whole than the congress now about to expire. It has abandoned party control, overridden the wisdom of experts in industry and business, gambled with the public treasures, and made "government by the people" sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal.—Atlanta Constitution.

Child with Abnormal Appetite.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Do you remember when mothers attributed all the ailments of children to the presence of tapeworm? The good old-fashioned doctor and family friend, was inclined to believe that Johnny had a tapeworm, if, inspite of his tremendous appetite Johnny did not gain in weight.

Tapeworms do cause a certain percentage of disorders, but they are not as common now as formerly. This is because of the practical application of sanitary rules to the case of our food stuffs. The laws and their enforcement by efficient health and market officials, give us safety against contaminated foods.

Intestinal worms are introduced into the body by the eating of food contaminated by the larvae, or eggs, of worms. Such larvae are found particularly in contaminated pork. Certain types are rarely found in beef and fish.

Not all such cases of human infection come from eating food. Certain forms are carried to man by the handling of dogs or cats having the contaminating substances on their bodies.

Most of the symptoms of tapeworm are vague and indefinite. Bad breath, annoying abdominal sensations, colicky attacks, enormous appetite, and diarrhoea are the most common signs.

Various drugs have been used for the expulsion of the worm. They should be used only under the advice and direction of the family doctor.

Often, after treatment, the head remains, and within three months the worm may grow to its previous size.

The cure of these cases is at times particularly difficult. That is another reason why mothers should not attempt to overcome the trouble without the supervision of a physician.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

MRS. R. M. Q—Is a sinus condition apt to become chronic? Will a boy of ten be able to outgrow the trouble? Would the extraction of five teeth be a factor? What would you advise?

A—If not properly cleared up a condition of this kind may become chronic. Yes, if properly taken care of. See a nose and throat specialist for examination and advice. No. Be sure to clear up any catarrhal tendency as soon as possible.

• • •

N. L. I. Q—Would a solution of alcohol and camphor prove injurious to the nerves if used for reducing?

A—No; but it is never wise to attempt treatment which has not been specifically prescribed for your particular case. If you wish to reduce you should watch your diet and take plenty of exercise.—Copyright, 1931, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Carnot, Student of Heat.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

The study of heat and energy exert an immense influence upon our lives, whether we are aware of it or not. Take an ordinary railroad train, in which most of the energy from the fuel is disipated, and only a relatively small proportion is employed in pulling the train. If scientists could change that, and reverse the situation, the results would be immense, in lowering the cost of running the train, and hence in making our railroad tickets much cheaper!

Nicholas Leonard Sadi Carnot lived to be only thirty-six—from June 1, 1796, until August 24 1832, when he died of cholera. But in that time this brilliant young Frenchman had laid the foundation of a great new science, thermodynamics. It has been vastly extended and developed by Clausius Toule, Lord Kelvin, Professor Willard Gibbs, and others. Lord Kelvin went so far as to say that there is nothing greater in the whole extent of the domain of the sciences than the work of Sadi Carnot.

Carnot came of a famous family. He was the son of the historic figure, Nicholas Carnot, who was most prominent in organizing the Republican armies of France prior to Napoleon's accession of power, being known in history as the "Organizer of Victory." He was also the uncle of his namesake, who was president of the third republic. He studied at the Ecole Polytechnique in Paris; but his studies were interrupted for a time by military service. After resigning from the army, he devoted himself to an intensive study of the laws of heat, and their application to the development of the steam engine.

Carnot developed a great principle which is called after him. It is succinctly stated in his own words:

Wherever there is a difference of temperature followed by return to equilibrium the generation of power may take place. Water vapor is one means, but not the only one. . . . A solid body, for example a metal bar, gains and loses in length when it is alternately heated and cooled and thus is able to move bodies fastened to its ends.

We can not create mechanical force, said Helmholtz, "but we may help ourselves from the storehouses of nature." Carnot studied the theory of the ideal frictionless engine; and showed that any engine must pass through a cycle, in order that the working substance, steam or what not, may be brought back to its original state. The great modern principle, the second law of thermodynamics, was anticipated by Carnot.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

GIVE MEN EMPLOYMENT.

Editor Star—It seems that some of the supposed wise men of Marion are puzzled as to what is the matter with Marion and what to do in order to bring about better conditions. Well, we all know that the labor element is the backbone of every city. Every business has to depend more or less upon the laboring people and when the shops were all working full time and the working people employed steadily, business was good, everybody was happy and very few were the calls made on charity. But look at the number of men that have been let out of work and have nothing to do. The city can not employ one-third of its laboring people, remember that, if the purchasing power of the laboring people is taken away from them. It affects every branch of business. Now I may not have the right conception of this matter, but before Marion can get in better condition the people have got to have employment and instead of reducing their wages they should be given a wage on which they can maintain themselves and family respectably. Then things will be different. Let the heads of our manufacturing shops get busy and make an effort to reclaim some of their lost business. Then the moneyed men of Marion wouldn't be afraid to branch out and use some of their money in order to promote business conditions in our city. Then if the freight that is being transported all over this country by motor bus service was turned back to the railroads, that would put more men to work, more train crews, more shop men, more men in every department. There is a great many railroad men living in Marion and a lot of them have been let out on account of a lack of something to do. Now isn't it plainly to be seen that Marion is dead because the very class of people who make a live city have nothing with which to do it. They are deprived of their opportunity to even procure a decent living, saying nothing about buying homes for themselves and plenty of good decent clothes. Wake up and put our shops to work, get out and get your business back and then issue a call for laborers. And don't be afraid to give the men wages that will reach above subsistence. Then, and only then, will Marion become prosperous.

The Famous Vale.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

The Vale of Kashmir is rich in history and legend and beautiful beyond words. Poets since Omar, the incomparable Persian, have celebrated its loveliness.

And this garden valley of the Himalayas is lovely with its quaint villages, its green and red forests and its breath-taking background of white-capped peaks.

The peasants who inhabit what some term the garden-spot of the world are as quaint and picturesque as their famous valley. The Kashmir people are broad-shouldered and powerful, but as meek and even-tempered as men and women can be. They wear a flowing, cloak-like dress which brings to your mind immediately the clothes of Biblical times.

Their facial appearance is astonishingly like the Jews. This curious similarity is all the more striking when the visitor recalls the long-lived legends telling that Christ did not die upon the cross, but was let down and disappeared to later appear in Kashmir, seeking lost tribes.

In the hills of Kashmir are to be found many Hindu cave-dwellers. These men leave their world behind to seek spiritual truth in nature. In selecting Kashmir they chose for the scene of the quest one of the most inspiring places in the world.

Perhaps the most celebrated of all trails up from the Vale of Kashmir is that which leads to the so-called enchanted lake, Shista.

At the end of this trail is to be found the lake and the sacred gypsium Amarnath cave. This is situated 13,000 feet above sea level and contains a frozen spring at which 1,000 Hindus pilgrims often worship at the same time.

These people fervently believe that the cave is part of another world and any one who views its fantastic interior will not wonder at their credulity.

"Eliza's Cabin" and Amherstburg.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Attempts to trace the underground railways of the slavery days through Ohio have generally stopped at the shores of Lake Erie or the Canadian boundary, but Hewson L. Peeke, of Sandusky, has identified a house still standing at Amherstburg, Ontario, as the destination of the slave, Eliza, whose flight into Ohio and across the state to Sandusky formed the basis of the story of Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Amherstburg is in Sussex county, Ontario, on the Canadian side of the Detroit river at its mouth, in Lake Erie. It was a small village at that time, and is not much larger now, the last census giving it a population of 2,000. Once across the lake, the fugitives were safe, and in the house at Amherstburg, Eliza, her husband and their child found their first carefree rest after their long flight.

Mr. Peeke has secured a picture of the house, which presents it as a plain two-story-and-a-half frame house with sagging shingle roof and a large chimney at one end suggesting a great fireplace below. It is still known locally, Mr. Peeke says, as "Eliza's Cottage," and he has secured evidence that leaves no doubt in his mind of its historic interest because of this episode.

What became of George Harris, Eliza and their child?

Mr. Peeke says they continued to live in this house in Amherstburg until after the war ended with the abolition of slavery, when they returned to Kentucky with its milder climate that was much preferred by them.

RUSSIAN NOBLEMAN TO ADDRESS KIWANIS

Was Operative in U. S. Secret Service Department During War.

His address recounts some of his experiences as a secret service agent for the country during the war.

He is a descendant of the Russian nobility and is a noted linguist and musician, those in charge of the program say.

Baron Von Calio is visiting Marion while on a speaking tour of the country, in connection with his activities with the Salvation Army.

OHIO COUNTY CRIME RECORDS REPORTED

Hardin, Delaware Without First or Second Degree Murders in Year's List.

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., March 9—Lima and Allen county was the only heavily-populated section in the state without a first or second degree murder or manslaughter from July 1, 1929 to June 30, 1930.

That fact is revealed in statistics compiled in the office of Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown. Manslaughter charges resulting from death in automobile accidents were excluded from the statistics.

Counties without major crimes of any kind during that period were Huron, Holmes, Highland, Henry, Noble, Ottawa, Putnam, Shelby, Morgan and Mercer.

Though Lima and Allen county had no genuine murder case, it is credited with two Ohio's 17 blackmail cases in the same period.

Other counties without first or second degree murder cases or manslaughter charges were Ashland, Auglaize, Carroll, Delaware, Fayette, Van Wert, Fulton, Williams, Geauga, Greene, Hardin, Henry, Meigs, Richland, Shelby, Guernsey and Champaign.

Total indictments for crime against the person remained almost the same as for the previous year.

Persons indicted for 1929-30 totaled 6,951 against 6,980 for the year before and convictions increased from 2,165 to 2,394.

It is enjoined that all manner of subtlety, treachery and misrepresentation be forefended in the making of contracts or agreements. Personal affiliations may be friendly and helpful.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of important opportunity or adventure but attended by subtlety, treachery and fraud, unless keen wit and wisdom be drawn on to offset the secret and sinister. Here's Quick Way To Break Up a Cold

Makes You Feel Like a New Person Almost Before You Know It

THE thing to do with a cold is to break it up in a hurry—with something you know does the job; not to trifle with a lot of trick ideas and remedies. Colds are too dangerous to experiment with.

Get a box of Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Soon that miserable, aching feeling begins to go. The cold breaks up. The poisons are moved from your system. The world looks like an altogether different place.

These results come because Hill's goes back to first principles by going to the seat of the trouble. It's not a new-fangled fancy idea but a tried and proved way that's made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy.

Hill's costs only a few cents. Use it for quick relief after everything else you've tried has failed.

EVERYBODY else knew—but he didn't! He blamed everything and everybody for his unpopularity—and never once suspected the real reason. "B.O." —body odor.

If only "B.O." hurt like a toothache, then we'd know when we're guilty. But we get no warning. Yet it's so easy to avoid all danger of offending. Just do as millions of particular men and women are doing—wash and bathe with Lifebuoy. MODEL FOR CHARITY

Junior league members in New York are acting as mannikins at fashion shows whose proceeds go to Red Cross drouth funds. Two of them are Mrs. William B. Hawthorne, jr. (left), and Martha Millikin, shown wearing models by Jay Thorpe.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK—Society girls and matrons are using their knowledge of how to wear clothes with distinction in the interests of welfare and prosperity.

In New York and many other cities Junior league members have taken up dress modeling, replacing professional mannikins at charity fashion shows.

A group of Mayfair's social registerites are appearing as mannikins twice a week at an exclusive dress shop.

For four weeks they will model the latest styles on Tuesdays and Fridays at the tea hour. Their fees as mannikins, about $10 apiece an afternoon, are turned over to the Red Cross fund for drouth sufferers.

YOUNG women taking part in the mannikin shows include Anne Valentine, Cornelia Prime, Mrs. William Bayard Hawthorne, jr., who was Miss Bettina Miller, Mrs. Frederick E. C. Roelker, Martha Millikin and Frederica Gallatin, all socially prominent.

At several charity balls and tea dances here this season debutantes have acted as mannikins, displaying clothes for Palm Beach and other winter resorts.

Junior league members are urged, as part of their contribution to the Junior league program of usefulness in the community to help local commerce. Wearing the latest styles for philanthropic causes is one way of doing it.

Ten Styles for Eyebrows Find Favor in Fashion's Notebook

BY JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

IN this third article of the series I'm going to give you the names of the ten accepted styles for the eyebrows and describe each one for you. I know you've been wanting this information, but there were some points I wanted you to know first!

The ten styles are: The Question, the Studious, the Crescent, the Oriental, the Hollywood, the Dainty, the Piquant, the Conservative, the Distress and the Pencil Line.

The Question brow begins rather high above the eye near the bridge of the nose and tapers down to a fine line as it is drawn toward the temple. It is rather wider than the average brow at its beginning, and the tapering is done so gradually that the line is still heavy over the center of the eye.

The Studious is an arch of even width, not even tapering at the end near the temple. Just a heavy arc outlining the contour of the eye and extending a little beyond it at the end.

At first glance the Crescent appears similar to the Studious, but we find that it has a higher arch over the center of the eye and although the line is heavy it tapers some as it nears the temple.

The Oriental is not nearly as heavy a brow as those previously mentioned and its line tapers up instead of down at the end. A slight upward curve near the bridge of the nose and following the bone construction distinguishes this brow until the end of the eye is reached. The line then slants upward a bit.

The Hollywood is similar to both the Studious and Crescent, but arched a little more than the Studious and not so much as the Crescent. Even more important than the different arch, however is that we find the Hollywood favoring a much narrower line of hair than the two modes it appears to resemble.

Visualizing the Modes

The Dainty is a short brow with a decided arch and heavy growth characterizing it. The decided arch and heavy line are necessary, however, for this brow begins and ends within the actual line of the eye socket. It is new and most becoming to certain types which will be explained in a later article.

The Piquant is a short dash over the eyes, tapering down at the ends, but it, too, does not extend beyond the actual construction of the eye.

The Conservative is a long, thin sweep of brow across the eye which ends beyond the socket. It has a delicate arch and is of the same width from beginning to end.

The Distress, (what an odd name), begins low near the bridge of the nose and curves up at the ends. It extends beyond the eye and tapers to a fine point at the end.

The Pencil Line is a fine line, delicately arched over the eye and of even width from beginning to end. It is not new, as many of you know, and not favored unless it is the one mode deemed best for you.

The next article in our eyebrow series will tell you which styles may be adapted to any face and which are most suitable for one of the four types of face, bearing in mind not only the contour of the face but the size of the eyes.

In visualizing the modes described above you must remember that when reference is made to . . . the bridge of the nose . . . we mean this only as a direction point.

Actually quite a little cleared space must be left between the brows over the bridge of the nose. In some modes this space is much wider than in others, but in all of them some area for separation must be left free from hair.

How to End Painful Piles Without Salves or Cutting

Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause — that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's prescription HEM-ROID, succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing, that Henney & Cooper says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back. —Adv.

"Well," replied Dr. Charters, 'that London solicitor he talked about either will, or will not, turn up. Sir Bernard Matthieson either will, or will not, write and ask me if I have any objection to consultation about his patient, Mr. Waye. We might look silly if we couldn't produce him: and, moreover, he says he's written to half-a-dozen people, giving this address and saying he would on no account leave here without letting them know in advance.

"Secondly, as to what he konws, believe me, he knows a sight too much. Nevertheless, bumping off is easier said than done.

"And easier done than undone,' he added. "And as for who he is, I don't know him, but he knows me, and he knows Jimmy all right. Whether he knows Manoel Machado, 'Frisco Fanny and Louie the Lady, remains to be seen.

"Lastly—why he should come to us. Where could a man tie-up better than in a famous nursing-home of the highest repute?"

"Especially when he's got the bulge on the boss," observed Mr. James, unkindly.

"Can't bump him off for fear we have to produce him,' said Dr Charters patiently. "Can't kick him out, or let the police get him, because he'll tell the world."

'What do we do if Scotland Yard trails him here?' asked Nurse Jones.

"Tell them to take him and hang him quick," growled Mr James.

"Very helpful," snarled Dr Charters. "Where'd you be, as well as some other people, by the time he's said his say? And, mark you, he's in a nasty mood. Wish to Heaven I could place him, for he places us all right, and means to see that we get what's coming to us."

"Well, what'll we do if Scotland Yards trails him here?" repeated Nurse Janes.

"His idea is an alibi. Been here a week—as you know," replied the doctor.

"Difficult," observed the matron "though it was real luck that Sister Weldon had been on leave. I told her the man in Room 19 wasn't a patient at all, but a friend of the doctor's own—perfectly well, but 'eccentric.' I think she swallowed it."

"Difficult perhaps, but we've got to do it," continued Dr. Charters, "and with two doctors, the matron, and a nurse, we ought to get away with it. If one of the dicks was asking me if a tall, ugly, clean-shaven guy had bluffed his way in here, I shouldn't recognize the description, I can't remember all the patients' clothes, can I?

"And if he said there was, in this nursing home, a guy who rather resembled a description they'd had of Mr. Theophilus Weeb's alleged murderer, and identified this mysterious Waye tough, I should say:

"'Him? Why he was in bed here when that murder was committed. Been here for days.'

'Then if I rang for Dr. Emmanuel MacAdoo, who is in charge of the case, and said,

"'Doctor, on what day did Mr. Waye come into the nursing home?' and the doctor said he'd been here since Tuesday week, and then I sent for the nurse in charge and the matron who got his room ready, wouldn't that dick apologize for all the trouble he'd given me?"

'Might not the dick ask for Waye's fingerprints?' asked Nurse Jones.

'No,' replied the doctor. 'Even a dick wouldn't have the face to ask Dr Charters of the Monastery, to let him take the fingerprints of a gentleman whom he guaranteed to have been here on the date when some murder was committed.

"Anyhow, we've got to take a chance," he added, "for this ugly devil's got us in a cleft stick. He's got us as tight as we've got him.

'And he's got a second string for a let-off. If he's pinched after he leaves here, he's going to act the lunatic if we refuse to give him an alibi. He'll try to get past, as not responsible for his actions, then recover his sanity gradually."

"He's certainly provided himself with plenty of witnesses that he's mad all right," observed the matron.

Suddenly Mr. James smote his thigh.

'Got him," he said. "He's mad, is he? Right! You and Doc MacAdoo have a talk to this Sir Bernard Matthieson when he comes, and call us and any number of other people, in evidence—and get him certified mad before he squeals on us. Put him away for keeps—and then, the more the poor lunatic tells the world—the more they'll put the handcuffs and strait-waistcoat on him and sling him in the padded cell."

Dr. Charters and his colleagues stared at the speaker.

"You've said something, Jimmy," ejaculated the doctor. "Get him certified mad, and put him away for life; and the more he acts mad now, the tighter he'll tie himself up. The clever Mr. Waye! Out of his own mouth. That's really funny." And the doctor's laugh was unpleasant.

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

YESTERDAY was Sunday and it was clear and bammy when me and Jubilee woke up, and most of the bunch were in the barn when I got there, and Rod said he would be glad when it got real warm again, because he liked to have it warm enough so that my ant would leave the kitchen door open Sunday mornings when she washed me, because he liked to see her do it. He has got a mean disposition.

When I went in the house and strained the milk, and was feeding my face, my grandfather said that he guest summer was about here at last all except for spring, and Younie, who had came with Feeble and Maggie, asted him if he would advise her to take off her heavy underwear, and he said, 'Not here and now," and my ant said he was a disgraceful old reprobate, and he said he would of been if he had told her to do anything else.

I kept on feeding my face and said nothing. I had got up and snuck out in the kitchen and was almost out of the back door when Feeble hollered, "Thomas Aristides aren't you going to wait and get washed?" and my ant jumped up and came out and I snuck back and unbuttoned my shirt when I had got my coat off, and Feeble looked at me crosseyed and grinned when I scowled and made a fist at her. I asted my ant when she was soaping the rag if she had just as soon wash my face down instead of up, because my nose and eyelids ran down instead of up, but she didn't pay me any mind and went heavier than ever on the upstrokes. I bet if she was scrubbing the roof of a house she would scrub up instead of down, just to be contrary.

After we had went to Sunday school and had fed our faces we all got together again and went out to the back of the poorhouse and the door to the ice house was open and we all went single file up the right way and into the dear cool. It is kinda dark inside. [illegible] aren't any windows. [illegible] took a piece of [illegible] was laying in [illegible] shavings off [illegible] and [illegible] these [illegible]

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

The Household Controversy Over the Naming of Baby.

AS JUNIOR gave voice to the names for his baby-sister which he had declared were the "swellest names you ever heard," he made a lordly gesture to Roderick.

"Bring on yours, Rod," he said, but chokingly I bade Roderick wait a minute. The 'swellest names' of Junior's choice "Ruby Pearl," which he had said might be 'turned around to 'Pearl Ruby'," had been a trifle too much for my risibles, and I felt that I needed an opportunity to brace myself against the next revelation.

"Mine's got more class to it," Roderick said quoting I knew, with the never-failing memory of children, from some of the chatter in which Mary and Marion often indulge. And then with a flourish, he intoned "Call her 'Opal Violet'."

"A Real Good Baby"

Glad, indeed, was I that the conventions once having been observed, the boys plunged at once into a warm discussion of the respective merits of the names they had selected. They took their eyes from my face giving me a much-needed opportunity to compose it into decorous subjects and began arguing with such vehement gestures though I noticed they scrupulously kept their voices from rising that I unobtrusively rolled my tiny daughter's carriage to the other side of the veranda where she lay as wide-eyed and placid as she almost always is when waking. For our wee princess is precociously a 'good' baby which by Katherine's definition is one which sleeps the greater part of the time and cries only when hungry or uncomfortable.

'Any baby in perfect health is a good baby until it is spoiled. Katherine has told me often pardonably riding her special hobby. If you begin with a perfectly healthy baby when it is about two hours or thereabouts old, and give it systematic, regulated care, feed it by schedule, give it plenty of cool, not cold water, keep it immaculately clean and always comfortable, see that it is either outdoors or in a well-ventilated room and never take it up when it is crying for no other reason but to exercise its lungs, you'll have a 'good' baby until you begin to let down on the regime. Sick babies they're an other story, the most pitiful things on earth."

But any woman less equable than Katherine would have been routed by my mother-in-law, who despite almost 'foot to foot and eye to eye' every step of her training. Eiking to take up her small granddaughter every time she cried, urging more frequent feedings upon the plea that 'the child was starving to death' and feeding continually about the 'draughts' to which she insisted the child was being exposed by Katherine's fresh-air program, which she predicted would give the baby her "death of cold"—she made of herself so nagging a nuisance that Dicky was seriously considering taking her away to the mountains for a trip.

She had been most militant, too, about the naming of the baby, and the memory of the diatribes she had uttered upon the subject made me welcome the diversion of the names the boys had selected and which I personally felt should be labeled as anathema to every young father and mother.

"Ruby Pearl!" "Opal Violet!" They were being sounded repeatedly and truculently by my young son and his cousin, and I chuckled at the remembrance of one of the sanest women I ever knew, possessed of a keen sense of humor, who has struggled through life under the handicap of the names "Pearl Theresa" because a tired and indulgent mother had permitted an older brother and sister to name her. She had taught in the same school with me and I could hear still her caustic comments upon that old indulgence.

"You can bet that brother and sister of mine never called one of their own anything like that," she used to say. "Theirs are all 'Mary' and 'Jane' and 'Elizabeth' and 'John' and 'Henry' But just listen to what they handed me. 'Pearl Theresa'! It's the real reason I never married. Just as I'd get a nice young man really interested, he'd ask my name, and then he'd ease out of the picture. He couldn't stand the thought of the wedding announcement in the papers with that name loose on the page."

We used to laugh merrily at her recital, but her experience had served to stiffen my objections against all "fancy" names, and I had determined that no child of mine should ever have anything save a good old-fashioned, pre-Revolutionary name.

Grandmother's Idea

There never had been any question about Junior's naming. He was Richard Graham, Second, with his father's record as an American ace, and his distinction as an illustrator to surround it with prestige. But about my small daughter's head the controversy had swirled since the day of her birth in a fashion only a little less energetic than the one going on now.

Dicky chivalrously had insisted that she be named Margaret after me, and after my little mother long dead. My father assented quietly to this, although sometimes I wondered if he had any other idea in mind, he used to look so wistfully at me when the subject was mentioned. But Mother Graham militantly demanded that the baby be given the old family name of Harriet, belonging to her daughter, herself, and any number of the women of older generations in her family.

'Mums'' Junior broke in upon my reverie with eagerness. "Won't you say which of these names you like best?"

I told him if he didn't give up I'd paint him one, so he went out, and then I went out and I was the best man. But I was near frose.

I climb up on the fence and leaned over it so the sun could shine on the back end of me, and when I got home I stood by the base burner till I got sent to bed. And I haven't thawed out yet, and this was Monday. Feeble says that boys aren't so brite, and she says that women can make munkeys out of men as easy as girls can out of boys. She thinks she is smart.
